REFLECTION

Jesus is our liberator. But do we believe that? Will we let him free us? Today Luke the historian begins his account of Jesus' effective, Spirit-filled ministry in Galilee. In his hometown of Nazareth Jesus declares himself to be the liberator Isaiah promised. (Freeing people from physical and social evils is the bible's sign of liberation from sin.) Thanks to our baptism, St. Paul tells us, we can experience the freedom of Christ.

Through baptism, prejudicial distinctions are erased and all members of Christ's body are called to contribute their gifts for the common good. We are to respect our differences and maintain our unity, no one's gift excluding or dominating another's. When we praise God for others' gifts and are not jealous of them, we are free to carry on Christ's liberating work. The first scripture passage, which shows Ezra the priest reading from the book of the Law, remind us of our own liturgical assemblies. We gather to hear the demanding word of God and answer with our Amen. However difficult it is to obey, God's word brings joy.

ORDINANDI SPIRITUAL BOUQUET

The Catholic Women's League invites everyone to contribute to our Annual Collection of Prayers for the intentions of the soon-to-be-ordained Priests. The prayers are called a "Spiritual Bouquet". Some examples of prayer contributions are saying a Rosary for these men and their vocations or offering a Mass. Other people remember these men at Communion. Or perhaps you wish to remember these men who are called to the priesthood at home by saying a prayer before your mealtime. There is no cost involved, only your time. The C.W.L. would like to thank you ahead of time for your generous prayer offerings toward the "Spiritual Bouquet." They look forward to receiving your prayers after Mass at each of the exits of the church.
