REFLECTION

The book of Sirach, a collection of wisdom sayings reminds us that we have been given the freedom to choose right or wrong, life or death. God calls us only to life; our choice is to be made in fidelity to him. Though it may be difficult, God's law is not burdensome for those who choose to be faithful. They are happy to do his will. Paul tells us that such wisdom is not readily understood by the world. Christ was crucified for preaching the wisdom that transcends human understanding. Jesus' life shows that we must die to ourselves in order to receive life. Only the Holy Spirit can lead us in the ways of God, since Spirit alone plumbs his depths. God's commands which are not to be set aside, are given their perfect interpretation by Jesus in today's gospel. He completes the former law. He insists on an ideal of behaviour which goes beyond external legal obedience. Reconciliation with those we have offended takes precedence even over sacrifice to God. This way of life is demanding, but God's grace and guidance are with us.
